Uranium Release Challenges Soviet

Eisenhower Says $1 Billion Deal Demonstrates Promotion Of Peace

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower's new program for releasing $1 billion worth of uranium at home and abroad for peaceful atomic projects presented a challenge to Russia today to follow suit.

The President announced late yesterday that the United States will make available 88,000 pounds of atomic material, uranium 235, to pioneer American firms and to friendly nations in a demonstration of "our faith that the atom can be a powerful instrument for the promotion of world peace."

His announcement came just one day after Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin had stated that "we Communists must fully place the greatest discovery of the 20th century—atomic energy—at the service of... the cause of building communism."

Bulganin pictured Russia as "ahead of other countries" in the peaceful uses of atomic energy, but did not talk of sharing atomic materials.

Actually, Eisenhower barred distribution of any of the 88,000 pounds of U. S. U-235 to the Soviet Union and its satellites, as well as to any other nations presently producing the material.

Alabama Negro Prayer-Walk Program Set

Montgomery Citizens Protesting Against Mass Indictments

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Dozens of new bus boycott arrests were being made today in the face of a mass meeting tonight of 10,000 Negroes praying for "justice to prevail."

And to emphasize their determination, boycott leaders proclaimed tomorrow as "Prayer Pilgrimage Day." They said every "race-loving" Negro will shun all motor vehicles and walk wherever they go on that day.

Scores of Negroes crowded outside the Montgomery County Jail yesterday and watched quietly as 73 of 115 persons indicted for boycotting were brought in and booked.

The 73 taken into custody, all Negroes, included several political leaders and 23 ministers. All were released in $300 bond.

The wholesale arrests followed a report by the Montgomery County grand jury, which named 115 persons as active participants in the boycott, now in its 12th week in protest against racial segregation.

THE MASS meeting tonight and the no-ride "pilgrimage" tomorrow were announced by the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, one of those indicted for boycotting and pastor of the First Baptist Church, where the "prayer for justice" meeting will be held.

Israel Reports Syrian Gunfire

JERUSALEM (AP)—Syrian rifle-men opened fire on Israeli fishermen on the Sea of Galilee early today—breaking 10 weeks of calm in the area, Israel says.

The announcement said the fishermen cut their nets and returned the fire without casualties.

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the U. N. truce supervision organization, continued his efforts to implement the Security Council decisions of Jan. 19 in order to reduce the tension.

Progress was reported made concerning the planned exchange of Israeli and Syrian war prisoners.

Russians Wooing Lebanon Nation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Russia angled an offer of technical aid before Lebanon today in renewed efforts to stimulate trade with the Arab state and kept it out of the Western camp.

The aid offer was said to involve road building, hydroelectric dams, irrigation, railway and sea-port improvements.

Gore Expected To Head Probe

8 Senators To Study Lobbying Practices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) appeared today to be in line to head a special committee created by the Senate and given broad powers to search for any improper or illegal lobbying or campaign financing.

Four Democratic and four Republican senators are to be named to the investigating committee later in the day.

The appointments are to be made by Vice President Nixon, on the recommendations of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Gore was going ahead with plans for a broad investigation by the Senate Elections subcommittee, of which he is chairman, when Senate leaders stepped in and said they favored setting up a special bipartisan committee to conduct the inquiry.

Johnson and Knowland joined in sponsoring the move for an election-year investigation of "attempts to influence improperly or illegally" the Senate or its members through campaign contributions, political activities, lobbying or any other practices.

BEFORE THE resolution was adopted by a 79-1 vote, it was broadened to cover any attempts to exert similar influence on candidates for the Senate "or any officer or employee of the executive branch" of the government.

No Severe Cold Reported In U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, with light rain, snow and cloudy skies in most areas. No severe cold or storms were reported.

Heaviest precipitation in the last 24 hours was along the Pacific Coast and Idaho with falls measuring around 2 inches.

Light snow continued in most of the Dakotas and rain or snow hit sections of the lower Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and Arkansas and Tennessee.

Californians Put Whale In Fish Bowl

PORTUGUESE BEND, Calif. (AP)—Southern California, headquarters for odd attractions, today has a new one to bedazzle the tourists: a whale in a fish bowl.

Furthermore, it's a girl whale with a beak. And she has an unlikely name for a budding monster: Martha Washington.

The guys who caught and tanked the rare young stray from polar waters have bruises to prove that she's a whale for sure.

Ag Bill Debate Opens In Senate

Rigid Vs. Flexible Price Props Seen As Center Of Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle over flexible vs. rigid farm price supports shifted from committee rooms to the Senate floor today.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) called for a return to higher supports levels as the only means to "put more dollars into the farmers' pockets without delay."

But even as he opened debate on the election year farm bill, an amendment was offered to continue the present flexible scale.

Voting on this and other controversial provisions of the measure will not start before next week at the earliest.

Ellender pleaded for a final vote early next week, saying passage by both the Senate and the House should be completed by March 15 "if this bill is to do any good at all during the 1956 crop year."

But Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said, "We'll be lucky to get a final Senate vote by next Thursday or Friday."

ELLENDER is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which by an 8-7 vote included a return to high, rigid price supports on basic crops in an omnibus farm bill which also would establish a soil bank and acreage reserve system of crop reduction asked by President Eisenhower.

The measure also would make a number of other changes in farm laws designed largely to halt a decline in farm prices and farmers' income. A number of senators, offering amendments, indicated they hope to rewrite sections of the bill on the floor.

Sen. Young (R-ND) said that if present flexible supports are continued, they will break most wheat farmers. And they will do nothing, he contended, to reduce crop surpluses.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told the House Agriculture Committee yesterday that the administration's soil bank plan could cut in half the present federal outlays for farm surplus storage.

The farm price support program now costs the government approximately $1 million a day in storage costs alone.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House committee commented he would personally approve legislation providing $1 billion a year in soil bank payments.

A Senate farm bill would provide

TV Mechanic Analyzes Engines

NEW YORK (AP)—A new television auto mechanic which was demonstrated today tells you almost instantly what's wrong with your engine.

The electronic device throws wavy patterns of light onto the face of a TV-type screen.

Variations from the normal patterns point to such things as shorted sparkplugs, defective coils, burned distributor points.

Name the Du Mont TV-type engine analyzer, it is simply connected to the ignition system of the engine by two clip-on leads.

Soviet Sounds Off On Red Army Day

LONDON (AP)—Soviet military leaders marked Red Army Day with calls today for vigilance against "intrigues of aggressive forces" and assertions that Russia has "reliable means" for delivering atomic and hydrogen bombs to any part of the world.

Defense Minister Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, in an order of the day, urged the Soviet Union's armed forces to strengthen the nation's defense capacities.

$100 million more than this figure, with $750 million earmarked for planting reductions under the acreage reserve program and another $350 million for the conservation reserve of forest and rangeland.

The acreage reserve program, a key part of the soil bank, would reward farmers in cash or kind for voluntarily taking out of production land now used for growing basic crops that are in surplus.

2 Buckeye Solons Rap Ag Legislation

Farmers Union Chief Sees Measure As Only 'Raising False Hopes'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Ohio officials appear to be convinced that the present farm legislation before Congress will do Buckeye farmers more harm than good.

One of the officials, Joseph Fitcher of Oxford, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, says he doubts the bill now being debated by the Senate will not do much more for Ohio farmers than "raise a lot of false hopes."

The other two Ohioans, both Republican congressmen, complain that Southern Democrats dominating the House Agriculture Committee are neglecting the needs of farmers of the Midwest.

Reps. Bow and Henderson say the committee is determined to sidetrack legislation to help small wheat farmers in Ohio and other states.

This measure, backed by the Eisenhower administration and passed by the Senate, would exempt from acreage controls wheat raised exclusively for use on the farms.

There was activity elsewhere, meanwhile, by Ohioans interested in farm issues. About 40 members of the Ohio Farmers Union were here continuing arguments against the soil bank plan contained in the Senate farm bill.

THE PROPOSAL calls for farmers to be paid for taking certain land from production of crops already in surplus.

Fitcher declared that this voluntary program would hurt Ohio wheat and corn farmers.

"There has already been a drastic reduction in the so-called basic crops," he said. "With a 30 per cent additional reduction, some Ohio farmers would be cut down so low that they couldn't meet expenses."

Not Enough Pupils Being Flunked?

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A Texas professor said today the nation's high schools now have thousands of pupils "who would have flunked out of grade school a few years ago."

This situation is a result of the great increase in the percentage of youngsters attending high schools, said Dr. J. G. Umstadt, and because society "asks us to serve all children and youth from the moron to the genius."

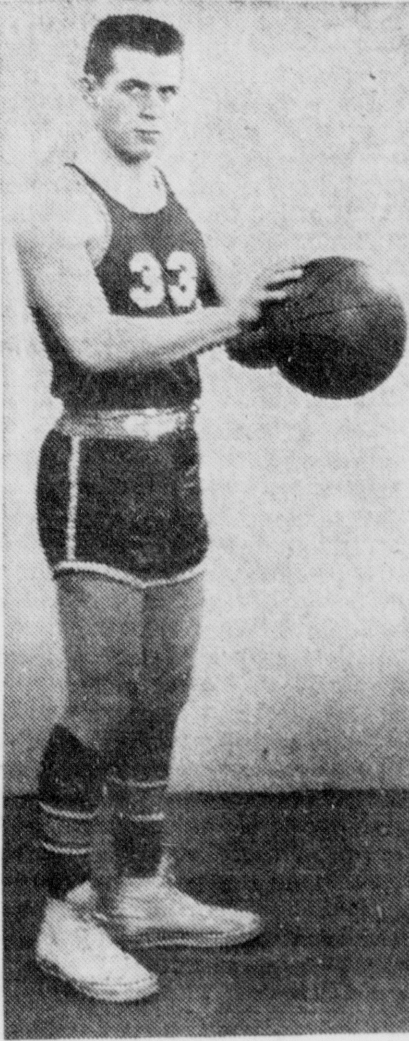

DiSalle Says 'No' To Slot Machines

ASHLAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said flatly today he does not favor legalizing use of slot machines by veterans groups "or by anyone else for that matter."

The candidate in the May 8 primary added: "While the veterans clubs could very likely make good use of funds from these machines, too often such money is found in the hands of people whose intentions do not favor good government."

"We haven't fed it yet, but it should eat squid and mackerel," he said. "Since it beached itself we thought it may have been sick so we gave it a massive dose of penicillin, plus some vitamins to try to induce it to eat."

Coaches Give Nod To Deer Forward

By LOU FABRO
Herald Staff Writer

Gene D. Stonerock, star forward on Williamsport's last place County League basketball team, has been named the 1956 Bob Bowshe Memorial Trophy winner by the 11 county coaches.

The mentors named the 5'10" senior athlete, a first semester honor student at Williamsport, for the award by giving him 88 of a possible 110 points in secret balloting.

There were several close contenders.

The 21-inch trophy is presented annually by the Circleville Herald to the county league cager, who, in the opinion of the coaches, is outstanding both in his athletic ability and his sportsmanship on the basketball court.

The award was established in 1948 by the Herald in memory of Robert Allen Bowshe, a former Circleville High School athlete, who distinguished himself at CHS by his outstanding sportsmanship. He was killed in action in World War II.

HAVING WON the praise and respect of coaches, fans, officials, and fellow cagers, Stonerock, an unassuming athlete, has been openly lauded for his basketball prowess and his outstanding sportsmanship, by all.

He was chosen for the county's highest cage award for an individual while playing on a team that won only one of 14 hardcourt tilts all season long.

Despite the fact that he is a member of a last place team, Stonerock played like a champion, as he has done all through his basketball career. Even though he missed one league tilt, he ripped the cords for 231 points to lead the rest of the league's basketweavers in scoring. His 231-point total represents a 25.6 per game average.

In addition to his league scoring he connected for 84 more points in non-league action.

3 Mayors Praise Heart Fund Drive

Ashville, Williamsport Officials Join Hedges In Asking Support

Drawing new encouragement from the mayors of Ashville and Williamsport, the 1956 Pickaway County Heart Fund Drive moved closer today to its all-out effort—the door-to-door solicitations scheduled for next Sunday afternoon.

Official support for the campaign was voiced by Mayor Richard Bozman of Ashville and Mayor Bill Johnson of Williamsport. Earlier this week, also urged the public to give the drive strong financial backing.

The Heart Sunday campaign, to last for only one hour beginning at 1 p. m., is being extended this year to the two smaller communities after being limited last year to Circleville.

Mayor Bozman called upon Ashville residents to give the drive "real, whole-hearted support". In Williamsport, Mayor Johnson stressed the needs of the Heart Fund Drive and said he hopes it will be successful.

RESIDENTS of Circleville will have special reminders of the Heart Sunday campaign.

Civil Defense Director Bernard Tait said he would have the city's air raid siren blown at 1 p. m. for this purpose. And at the same hour, Walter Sieverts will play Sunday hymns on the Foreman Chimes in the Pickaway County courthouse tower.

The Heart Sunday solicitations last year in Circleville netted $1,750.81.

Of the funds collected this year, 75 per cent will remain in the Central Ohio area to combat the heart diseases through research, education, and community heart programs.

The Central Ohio Heart Association has spent over $200,000 in the past few years for scientific investigation at The Ohio State University and local hospitals.

The association is currently sponsoring 22 research projects, two fellowships in cardiology, and two scholarships.

Dr. H. H. Swope, chairman of the county-wide drive, has emphasized that his organization has no dispute—but only a problem—with the Pickaway County Community Fund group. He explained how national regulations will not permit the local Heart Council to join the Community Fund body.

This, he pointed out, makes it necessary to conduct a separate Heart Fund Drive. The Heart Fund Drive cannot use any of the money raised by the Community Fund activities.

Ex-Car Dealer Tells Of Ford's Ike Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former Chicago Ford dealer today quoted a second dealer as telling him in 1952 that the Ford Motor Co. had sent word for its Chicago dealers to raise $50,000 for Dwight D. Eisenhower's presidential campaign.

Milton Ratner, who said he was a Ford dealer for 20 years until March 1955, made the statement at a Senate hearing. He said that "as far as I know" he was one of only two Chicago Ford dealers who refused to contribute to the Eisenhower campaign. His relations with Ford ended with the company's cancelling his dealer franchise about a year ago.

High Court OKs 4 Convictions

UnAmerican Activities Probe Citations Upheld

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today affirmed the conviction of Mrs. Anna Morgan of Columbus and three Cincinnati men on charges of contempt of the Ohio UnAmerican Activities Commission. The court split 4-3.

Mrs. Morgan, wife of the former curator of Ohio State Museum, and the others refused to answer questions at a commission hearing about alleged Communist connections.

The others are Joseph Stern and Emmett C. Brown, both of Cincinnati, and Talmadge Raley of Sidney, formerly of Cincinnati.

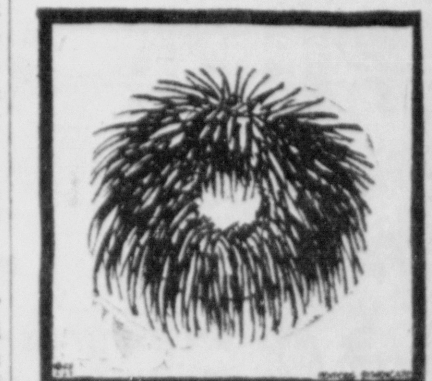

In affirming the convictions, the Supreme Court said that "where there is a statutory immunity granted the witness, which affords as much protection against self-incrimination as that to which he is entitled by the Constitution, the witness has a duty to give testimony free from a refusal to answer based upon the rule of self-incrimination."

THE HIGH COURT said "the witness is guilty of a violation of the criminal statute regardless of whether he is directed to answer" when it is a crime to refuse to answer.

"Immunity from prosecution," the majority decision said, "pertains solely to prosecution in the same jurisdiction, and where the immunity is sufficient within the state it affords the protection against self-incrimination guaranteed by the State Constitution."

"ANGORA DOUGHNUT"

I certainly hope this Droodle, suggested by Bob Greger of Miami Beach, Florida, doesn't start any trends. If the public ever developed a taste for a ridiculous item like an angora doughnut we're liable to start seeing Cashmere Coffee, All Wool Waffles and Corduroy Cup Cakes. Why before you know it the whole country would be hiccuping lint and people would develop Ulcers of the stomach. I say we must return to the old-fashioned soggy doughnut that just lays in your cup and soaks up the coffee and doesn't look like a beret for a French sheep dog. I hope Bob Greger realizes what a dangerous idea he had and doesn't try to patent it. Or eat it.

Sheriff Says Men Work More Than 48 Hours A Week

Sheriff Charles Radcliff today challenged a statement published in The Herald which noted that his deputies work a 48-hour week.

"Maybe that's all they're officially supposed to work," he declared, "but most of the time they put in anywhere from 60 to 70 hours. And they don't get any extra money for working overtime."

The sheriff said further that his deputies are on call 24 hours a day in case of an emergency. He said it is not unusual for a deputy to be called out in the middle of the night and then have to report for work at the usual time.

The statement to which the sheriff referred concerned a comparison between salaries of city police, city firemen and the deputies. It noted that police work a 48-hour week and firemen are on duty for 56 hours.

Ike Aides All Deny Story He Will Run

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (U.S.)—President Eisenhower's press secretary says that as far as he himself knows, the chief executive has passed word to no one on whether he will seek reelection.

James C. Hagerty made that statement to newsmen late yesterday in breaking silence for the first time to discuss some aspects of the big question: Will Eisenhower run again?

Hagerty did not come anywhere close to answering the question. For that matter, a literal interpretation of his own statement, that Eisenhower has passed word to no one, would mean Hagerty doesn't know the answer for sure anyway.

But he did deny a published report that the President's chief aide Sherman Adams had told Republican leaders Eisenhower had decided to bid for reelection and would say so publicly next week.

"I asked Sherman about that and he said he never made any such statement," Hagerty said in reply to inquiries.

THE DETROIT News, in a dispatch from its Washington bureau, said yesterday that Adams and Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, had informed party leaders the President would announce for reelection next week.

Hagerty said he had not asked Hall about the matter. But Hall said in Washington when asked about the report: "It's news to me."

Until yesterday Hagerty had refused to discuss any aspect of the second term question. He had said "no comment" scores of times.

He surprised reporters prepared to argue with him when he

World Trip Told To Lions By Defenbaugh

Local Lions Club members may now have an entirely different view of the land of India as the result of a speech made to the group this week by William Defenbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh spent several days of their just completed world trip in that land, mainly to attend a wedding. They had accepted an invitation to the ceremony from the groom, who had visited them in 1953 as an International Farm Youth Exchange student.

Defenbaugh commented on how many Indian people speak the English language. He said the reason for this is that there are so many different dialects spoken there.

He said he was impressed by the friendliness of the Indian people. He encouraged members to entertain foreign students in their homes whenever possible as the best way, in his opinion, to help build international good will.

In addition to his stay in India, Defenbaugh recounted the highlights of the 33-day world trip he and his wife took. He noted that an American passport gained much respect in foreign lands.

The 1956 Ohio license plates for passenger vehicles, 5,000 sets of them in 100 cartons, have just been received by Deputy Registrar of Motor Vehicles Joe Brink.

The plates are stacked in his cramped little office in the Pickaway County Courthouse basement.

Sale of the plates, which are green with white numerals and letters, will begin March 1. All vehicles must have the 1956 plates displayed properly by April 1.

Two thefts were reported Wednesday to the Pickaway County Sheriff's office and are now being investigated.

WASHINGTON (P)—Stalin's heirs now denounce him like men anxious to get rid of a stench. Becoming so extreme about it so suddenly, they raise an immediate question about themselves.

These new Kremlin leaders, tumbling over one another to condemn Stalin at this late date, were his right-hand men either all or part of the 29 years he ran the show in Russia. He died in 1953.

If he was as bad as they now say he was, why did they wait till now to say so? Why did they not only let him get away with it but cooperate with him and glorify him in his lifetime?

They can't claim ignorance of what was happening. They were part of it. This makes them hypocrites who either agreed with him in his lifetime or lacked the guts to throw him out, and now put on this act because it serves their purpose.

At the Russian Communist party's 20th Congress last week Stalin was attacked by name or indirectly by party boss Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin, Deputy Premiers Malenkov, Suslov, Mikoyan and Kaganovich, and Foreign Minister Molotov.

Summed up, this in effect was the catalogue of sins they blamed on their old boss.

He betrayed the spirit of the Revolution with one-man rule; he twisted history in his writings; he set back the Revolution with his domestic and foreign policies; and some or all of his Old Bolshevik comrades, whom he had shot in the purges of the 1930s, were framed.

Why this switch by Stalin's heirs? They had to make it. They had to give communism a fresh and attractive look, which meant wiping out the Stalin look. He had left them and communism hanging on a hook.

By the time of Stalin's death communism, except for what the Red Chinese could do, was standing still. The West was surrounding Russia with allies, or trying to. And Stalin had made communism repulsive, even to an ignorant native of Malaya.

Communism the world over had become associated in people's minds with violence, aggression, murder, purges, liquidation of even the party faithful, subversion, subservience (to Russia), and meager rewards.

Stalin, in becoming the symbol of communism, had become the symbol of all the tyrants in history. And for years he had had no new ideas. He had become incapable of taking advantage of new and favorable situations by changing his tactics. He wasn't letting communism expand. He was freezing it solid behind the Iron Curtain.

Bricker Sees First Chief As Controversial

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R - Ohio) says George Washington would be a "highly controversial figure" if he could revisit this country today.

Bricker was the principal speaker at last night's annual George Washington Day Dinner sponsored by the American Good Government Society.

The society presented Secretary of Treasury Humphrey and Sen. George (D-Georgia) with illuminated scrolls praising their achievements. The late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) was the recipient of a similar award by the society in 1953.

In his address Bricker discussed an imaginary revisit to this country by Washington, arriving at National Airport in a "celestial DC-7."

The first president would be received with the applause of nearly all Americans, Bricker said, but "I am afraid that he would be a highly controversial figure."

The senator added: "We might expect to read snide editorials attacking hero-worship; warning about the dead hand of the past; and scoring Washington for doubting both the inevitability of progress and the perfectibility of man."

Bricker said he was sure Washington would not have remained "silent upon seeing with his own eyes the extent to which political power has been centralized in Washington."

"Let there be no change by surputation," the senator quoted Washington as saying in his farewell address in which he called for constitutional amendment to change constitutional power.

Bricker was referring to his repeated demand for a constitutional amendment to limit the treaty-making power of the president.

ing it solid behind the Iron Curtain. The new leaders must, if they are to win against the West, change this world view of Russian communism, scoop up in any way they can the nations not attached to the West and even soften and break the Western partnerships.

They couldn't do it by force without catastrophe for themselves. But, as they now make plain in throwing Stalin's bulldozer out the window, there are other ways to try.

They talk now of economic help to their neighbors, of letting communism develop along different lines in other countries, of Russia as a friend and not a menace, of taking over where they can be peaceful and legal means. They reserve the idea of forceful overthrow for only the biggest and most anti-Communist countries.

The American Heart Association is the only national voluntary organization exclusively concerned with research, education, and community heart programs to fight the heart diseases.

'Bad Influences' Being Eliminated

NEW YORK (P)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says the Eisenhower administration has been "trying to set the economy free from an accumulation of unhealthy influences that had almost engulfed it."

Speaking Wednesday night before a meeting of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Humphrey said:

"There were such bad influences as unchecked government deficits, a tax structure so high that it threatened to destroy the incentives to work and save and invest, and a hampering network of regulations and controls."

NLRB Regional Director Quits

CINCINNATI (P)—Jack G. Evans has resigned as regional director for the National Labor Relations Board.

Evans, whose headquarters was here, will enter the private practice of law. He is a native of Columbus and has been regional director for the NLRB since 1947.

The regional office here handles unfair labor practices and collective bargaining cases for the southern half of Ohio and Indiana, all of Kentucky and three-fourths of West Virginia.

Owner Of Ciro's Night Club Plans To Shut Famed Spot

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Owner Herman Hoover said today he plans to close down his world-famed Ciro's night club about May 26.

His threat to end the long and colorful history of the Sunset Strip showplace stems, he said, from "corrupt practices" in the entertainment industry. But he declined to elaborate.

"We haven't had a strike," he remarked. "We haven't had labor troubles. We've had more big names than any other night club in the world, and we've had some wonderful parties. But certain practices have made it very difficult to continue in business. I'm not going to fight it any longer."

"But Ciro's is going out in a blaze of glory. Our last acts will be Pearl Bailey, Maurice Chevalier and Martin and Lewis. I expect to close the place down around May 26 or perhaps a little later."

He admitted that he is "leaving the door a little open," but doubts if the situation will alter enough to change his mind.

"I don't plan to sell Ciro's," Hoover said. "I have worked too hard for it in 14 years, and I wouldn't want to see it made into something second-rate. I don't contemplate keeping it open as a restaurant only, but I will use it for parties."

Hoover said he planned to go into the production and direction of television films.

If he carries out his threat to close Ciro's, it will mark the end of a landmark in Hollywood. The plush niterie has added color, scandal and amusement to the movie-town scene.

Many a hot romance has blossomed or faded within its gilded walls. It can boast of as many notable fistic encounters as most arenas in the United States. What stories those walls could tell!

Attorney Group May Not Campaign For Candidates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—A proposal to give active support to judicial candidates endorsed by the Columbus Bar Assn. was withdrawn Wednesday, the group's president, Atty. Collis G. Lane, announced.

Lane said the proposal was scrapped after new "arguments" had been presented against it. He said he hoped a modified plan will be adopted by the association before the May 8 primary election. Under the proposed plan, candidates for judicial office would be rated by association members on a point-system based on their character and legal attributes. The association now polls its members on judicial candidates they prefer to see elected. Results of the poll are made public.

Higher Copper Price Brings Some Regrets

Producers Fearing Tag On Metal May Help Substitutes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Copper today is at the highest price level since the time some 80 years ago when it was considered a scarce metal. At 46 cents a pound copper brings boom times in the mining states, but producers aren't as gleeful as you might think. They fear high priced copper will lose some permanent markets to substitutes—chiefly aluminum and plastics.

The United States uses so much copper now — more than half of that mined each year this side of the Iron Curtain — that it can no longer control the world market. Chile can, and just has, forced the price up here. Europe can, and does, snag copper supplies that American users would like to have.

The Copper & Brass Research Assn. holds out hope of a 16 per cent increase in copper producing capacity in the non-Communist world in the next three years.

Copper users here clamor for relief now — eyeing the government's strategic stockpile of the metal and urging tough curbs on the export of copper scrap.

If you're in a hurry for copper it seems as scarce a metal now as 80 years ago, before the big mines were opened. If you go to a custom smelter for copper today you may pay more than 52 cents a pound. A year ago it cost 30 cents. Early in 1950 the price was as low as 16 cents. Government controls in World War II pegged it at 12 cents.

There are several reasons for the present price squeeze on American consumers. Demand here is high—the U. S. Bureau of Mines says per capita consumption of copper has tripled in the last 50 years. The United States now must import more than a third of what it uses, dickering for it in the world market. Europe's appetite for copper to feed its industrial boom is great, too—and Europeans are willing to pay higher prices.

Strikes in the three principal producing areas — the United States, Chile and Africa — have tightened supplies. Consumers here charge that, for reasons of diplomacy, the United States doesn't resist Chilean pressure for higher prices with all the forces it could use. And the U. S. government has been storing copper away against the day it might be needed for defense.

Copper expansion programs are under way, the Copper & Brass Research Assn. notes today in a survey of world production. Existing mines are tapping additional ore bodies, and new properties will come into production during the next three years.

The association estimates mine production outside the Iron Curtain at 2,778,000 tons in 1955. It estimates that strikes prevented the mining of another 150,000 tons, giving a capacity total of 2,928,000 tons. It says 229,500 additional tons will be added to capacity this year, another 105,500 in 1957, and 123,600 more in 1958. This would bring total capacity in 1958 to 3,386,600 tons.

But demand could keep on rising, too. The Bureau of Mines reports that in the United States per capita consumption jumped from 5 pounds in 1900 to 17 pounds by 1954. Yet, outside the United States, world consumption was less than 2 pounds per capita by 1954.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Meat of many varieties will be found at special prices in food markets this week, giving shoppers a wide choice for this major item of most weekend menus.

Again pork is being widely featured, with prices remaining at the low level of recent weeks.

Beef in a variety of cuts, from sirloin to chuck, is being offered at lower prices in a number of markets. In some cases the price of sirloin is four to six cents a pound below last week and some rib roasts are off as much as 4 cents.

Lamb prices stiffened slightly on the wholesale market this week but this has not been reflected in most retail stores.

Fish continues to be plentiful for the winter season. Prices have been stable at a level close to that of a year ago.

Another winter item of interest is the egg market. Generally prices for all grades have been running as much as five cents a dozen higher than last year.

Frying chickens are being featured at special prices by at least one large food chain and are pointed out as good buys in others.

The price seems to vary according to local supplies but is down as much as four cents a pound in some sections.

Outstanding buys in vegetables for this period of the winter season are few. The list, excluding some regional variations, includes only new cabbage, potatoes and onions.

On fruit counters, oranges were generally a little higher this week, leaving grapefruit, tangerines and apples among the better buys in most sections.

Ohio Bankers Urged Eye National Debt

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state superintendent of banks has called on Ohio bankers to give thought to the national debt.

Paul Hinkle, addressing the mid-winter meeting of the Ohio Bankers Assn., said that whether controlled by Republicans or Democrats, Congress since 1946 has paid little heed to reducing the national debt.

Recent years have been ones of the greatest prosperity and greatest earnings in the history of the country, he said. Hinkle asked if we can't make payments on the national debt during such times, "when are we going to be able to start reducing this obligation?"

Wheeling Steel OKs Joint Venture

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Wheeling Steel Corp. is making its first venture into iron ore concentration with other companies on the Marquette Range of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

President John L. Neudeorfer said Wheeling Steel is joining with other steel companies and Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in a low-grade iron ore beneficiation project on the Marquette Range. Beneficiation involves concentration of ore to prepare it for smelting.

Wheeling Steel will own 10 per cent of the Marquette Iron Mining Co., a firm organized by Cleveland-Cliffs to own and operate the project. Marquette has leases on two large mines in the area.

FARM NEWS and VIEWS

By R. S. SWENSON, County Agent

OATS: The oats planting season is upon us. I would suppose that the majority already have their oat seed. However, for the benefit of those who do not, the recommended varieties are Clinton, Clinton 59, Ajax, and Andrew and Mo. 0205.

The Clinton is perhaps the most outstanding; however, a shortage of seed has been experienced. It is a variety very similar to Clinton 59 but it is resistant to all common races of crown rust. Clinton 59 is somewhat susceptible to race 7 of the stem rust. It has a very stiff straw.

Ajax is a white-grain, Canadian variety which has a reputation for low bushel weight. Andrew is early maturing yellow grain with a good bushel weight and Mo. 0205 is recommended for Southern Ohio because of its early maturing and excellent yield. However, it is discriminated against by rolled oats manufacturers because of its grayish color.

A general recommended fertilizer application for oats is 200 to 250 pounds of 5-20-20 or 300 pounds of 3-12-12.

FARM AND HOME WEEK: Beef cattle men in Pickaway County will be interested to know that Beef Cattle Day at the 1956 Farm and Home Week will be March 22. Performance testing will be the major topic of discussion. The general idea is to present as much information as possible on the subject of performance testing from the new-born calf to the beef carcass and from a cattlemen's experience to the latest research by scientists.

FARM BUILDINGS: Joseph Bickie, Extension Agricultural Engineer, will be in Pickaway County on Friday, March 2, to assist with farm building problems. Cliff-Jumper Saved By Hair

SYDNEY, Australia (P)—A man grabbed his wife by her hair as she slipped over a 300-foot cliff today and held on for five minutes until police arrived to help pull her to safety.

The husband told the officers the 35-year-old woman, yelling hysterically dashed from their home and tried to jump over the cliff at the entrance to Sydney harbor. The man got his wife around the waist first, then grabbed her tresses when she began to struggle away.

A lunacy court ordered the woman held for observation. Police withheld the couple's names.

BARROW SHOW: The annual Ohio Spring Barrow Show will be held at the Madison County Fairgrounds on Saturday, February 25, according to information recently received from Ohio State University. The barrows in the show will be slaughtered and carcass results will be reported at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus on Wednesday, February 29.

The show is being sponsored by the various swine associations in Ohio in cooperation with the University. All swine men are invited.

COBA TOUR: Dairy men are asked to mark the date of Friday, March 9, on their calendars for a trip to the bull farm of Central Ohio Breeding Association, west of Columbus.

Visitors will be shown improved methods in use at the farm in keeping records, in handling and storing of semen, and methods used in the new frozen semen program. Several recently acquired high producing bulls will also be on display. Anyone wishing to go and not having way to go are asked to contact our office.

CORN HOG RATIO: The corn hog ratio in January was 9 to 1, according to Margaret McDonald, extension economist. This is the lowest that it has been in several years. A year ago the ratio was 12 to 1 and the 20-year average from 1935 to 1954 was 13.2 to 1.

Estimates are that the ratio will not improve to a large extent during the next few weeks.

DiSalle To Ask No Lausche Pact

AKRON (P)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for nomination for governor, says he doesn't want to "embarrass" Gov. Frank J. Lausche by asking his endorsement in the primary campaign.

DiSalle told the Akron Newspaper Guild he believes Lausche "would support any Democrat who is nominated."

DiSalle is one of five Democrats who filed for the gubernatorial nomination after Lausche announced he would run for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican George Bender.

Millersport Man Killed By Fumes

LANCASTER (P)—Carbon monoxide fumes killed Charles Temple Jr., a paper hanger from near Millersport, as he worked in a home here Wednesday.

Fire department emergency squadman said Temple's body was found in a closed bedroom with a paper steamer going.

Dressmakers Get Hike, Short Week

CINCINNATI (P)—Pay increases and a reduced work week were given approximately 350 employees at Fashion Frocks, Inc. in a new labor contract.

The agreement, which becomes effective next Monday, provides for a pay boost at the Cincinnati and Hamilton plants of the minimum from 90 cents to $1.06½ per hour. The work week will be 37½ hours, but will be reduced to 35 hours Jan. 1, 1958.

The contract is for three years, said David Solomon, manager of the Cincinnati joint board of the AFL-CIO International Ladies Garment Workers' Union.

Heart Specialist's Opinion Expensive

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (P)—Political advice from President Eisenhower's heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, is getting mighty expensive.

The Boston physician, here Wednesday for a heart symposium, prefaced a question and answer period with this remark:

"The only way I will answer questions about President Eisenhower running again for the presidency is by the person who asks the question coming up here and donating $50,000 to the Heart Fund."

There were no questions.

Foul Weather Cuts Cleveland Air Trade

CLEVELAND (P)—The amount of poor flying weather in Cleveland this year was four times greater than the January-February average for the last three years.

The low visibility, fog mist and snow were reflected in a decrease in air traffic. Last month 14,105 airplanes and 190,237 passengers were logged in. This compares with 15,455 airplanes and 199,916 passengers a year ago.

Brotherhood Need Said Great Now

CLEVELAND (P)—The need for brotherhood is greater than ever before because of the atomic age, an atomic scientist said last night.

Dr. John R. Dunning, board member of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, said mankind's dilemma is to follow the nuclear path toward destruction or to turn the atom into something that will make man master of nature.

Consistently Best Actors On Television Said Babies

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (P)—The consistently best entertainers on television are babies. You don't have to feed, change or discipline them. You can just sit back and watch 'em.

Baby watching is as therapeutic a sport as bird watching — as long as you aren't responsible for the babies. A baby's clutching hands are the most fascinating devices in God's creation. The beatific smile of a born holler just before he dumps his cereal on the floor is a profound commentary on life.

Someday some smart TV producer is going to turn his cameras loose for half an hour on a nursery. No commentary will be necessary. The babies simply will go on yelling, fighting, growing, discovering without self-consciousness while the cameras record life. Bet that program would have a big audience too.

Until that day, however, baby watchers will have to be content with the glimpses of babies they catch on that excellent Sunday half-hour program conducted by that great friend of all babies, Dr. Benjamin Spock, on NBC-TV.

Even if you don't have a baby of your own you'll probably get a kick out of listening to and watching Dr. Spock chat with parents about raising kids. He'll never run out of material, of course, because babies keep being born and adults keep heaping new problems on them.

The programs are filmed in Cleveland where Dr. Spock is on the staff of Western Reserve University Medical School. His guests appear at a studio with their babies and baby tenders on a Wednesday. The kids are turned loose in a vast crib equipped with interesting toys while their mamas drink coffee with the doctor. Generally they don't decide on the day's subject until then. And then, away they go before the cameras.

Month-Old Baby Sporting Molar

Runaway Tank Kills Woman, 58

COVINA, Calif. (P)—A 47-ton National Guard Patton tank went out of control and rolled over a station wagon killing Mrs. Jeanette Hendricks, 58.

Police said the tank crushed her auto and then jumped a curb, rolled across a lawn and crashed into a brick wall. The four-man tank crew were unhurt.

Tank driver Sgt. Gordon Gray, 25, told officers the vehicle was returning to its unit in nearby Baldwin Park after a day of recruiting in Covina. Officers quoted Gray as saying he was moving too close to the curb and when he tried to straighten out the tank controls jammed.

left molar in the mouth of Robert Riddle Clinton. He's a month old.

Doctors said they'd never heard of such a young baby getting a back tooth. They decided not to pull it until after X-rays.

The baby's father, Robert R. Clinton of Brooklyn said the tooth came in when the baby was two weeks old.

Dancer Due To Benefit At Circus

CLEVELAND (P)—Tonight's performance of the Grotto Circus in Public Hall will be a benefit for Mrs. Dorothy Kochs, who was a night club dancer under the name of Tina Lamont until a bullet ended her dancing career and made her a heroine.

Her 3-year-old daughter, Jody, will ride in the circus parade with Lt. Norman Bayless and Sgt. Melvin Staley, who may owe their lives to Mrs. Kochs' fast thinking and courage.

Five weeks ago a holdup man at the "Gay Nineties" cafe where Mrs. Kochs worked tried to shoot the two officers from his perch on a bar stool beside the dancer. She grabbed his arm, deflecting his shots to the ceiling. In the scuffle she was brought into the line of return fire from the policemen. A bullet struck her near the spine, paralyzing her legs.

Mrs. Kochs, out of bed and in a wheel chair for the past few days, got her first physical therapy treatment Wednesday and learned that daughter Jody's black hair won't be looking its best for the circus parade. Jody will be sporting a new hair cut which she gave herself because "mommy" wasn't able to do it this time. Money raised at the benefit performance will swell a fund of $12,000 already collected for Mrs. Kochs. Another benefit is slated for Public Auditorium April 6 when the police department and six unions in the entertainment field will sponsor a variety show.

READJUSTMENT
FINANCIAL experts describe lower stock prices as a readjustment that was long overdue after years of almost uninterrupted advances which brought market averages to the highest point in history.
The public has a propensity for reading significance into stock market convolutions that is unwarranted. When the market advances steadily, the naive become convinced that such gains will continue forever; when there is a reversal of trend, a segment of the population becomes convinced that the trend cannot be halted short of disaster.
Many financial experts have been convinced for some time that prices were too high. Included were those who cautioned the public against expecting miracles from the recent Ford stock issue.

What amateurs cannot understand because they do not appraise the market realistically, is that the stock market is a two-way street. If this were not so, there would be no need for a stock market.

KREMLIN'S HAND?
ONE WASHINGTON reporter says there is a strong suspicion that the Kremlin's hand is involved in the current upsurge of coffee prices. Although declines had been predicted for months, as the result of a crop surplus, enough crop is being withheld from the markets by Colombia and other governments in South America to boost prices on the New York market.

When a similar move boosted prices in the U. S. to more than $1 a pound two years ago, threatened government action and a partial boycott by the public brought a reduction of sorts, but prices remained close to the $1 level.

Soviet leaders, who have stepped up their drive to infiltrate South America, are alleged to have spurred governmental action to create an artificial shortage by using the argument that Washington would now fear to frown on such a holdup of American consumers.

STORE SALES GAIN
DEPARTMENT store sales nationally since January 1 have gained 2 per cent over the record figures of a year ago. This accomplishment is especially impressive because weather conditions in many parts of the country were abominable for extended periods. Store sales usually are affected adversely by foul weather.

But more impressive than the gain of 2 per cent since January 1 are gains of 5 per cent over similar periods last year in each of the last four weeks. Retail business seems to be maintaining its momentum. Executives of large department stores now are raising their sights and predict a still larger gain in the next two or three months.

Retail sales are the most reliable indices of the condition of the economy. When business at the retail level gains, factories must produce the goods to replenish shelves.

This Hunter Uses Howitzer

By HAL BOYLE
DENVER (AP)—Ted Bakken, a lean, red-haired, 28-year-old mountaineer, is one of America's most unusual big game hunters.
He hunts avalanches. When he finds one that is ripe, he brings it down with artillery fire.
Ted who uses a 75 mm. howitzer is the chief marksman in a spectacular snow-fighting technique developed by the Colorado Department of Highways.
Keeping roads through 21 high mountain passes free of snow is an arduous and sometimes hazardous task this time of year.
Avalanches, roaring unchecked from high peaks and burying key highways under hundreds of tons of snow, rocks and broken trees, have been more than a nuisance to motorists in the past. Between 1945 and 1952 they claimed six lives in Colorado.
Today highway engineers are less often taken by surprise. They create more than half the mountain pass avalanches themselves in a unique snow control program.
It is done with the precision of a military maneuver.
When snow builds up dangerously in an area, a section of the road is blocked off, and a high

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days
When one lies on a hospital bed wondering whether you might not die overnight, it suddenly comes to him that he has made no preparations for this one inevitable act in all his life.

Of course, the prudent man has left some insurance for his family and maybe something of an estate, but even that lacks reality at such a moment. People somehow manage to live and the lady who played great at the Colony or the Stork can sell hats and dresses as well as the next one.

There is no satisfaction in being a rich widow; there must be a richer memory than dollars.

And the questions does bother the fellow who is waiting for the verdict, whether he has prepared his family to live without him by moral strength, determination to achieve. These little thoughts are bothersome for a while, just as the very material thought that comes along to make a restless night—does the wife know how to handle money? Does she know enough about my affairs to know what I owe and what will be coming to her?

The rich have lawyers and accountants for such things but the rest of us are just plain people too sure of ourselves and when what everybody believes can only happen to the other fellow happens to us, the arrangements have generally not been made.

And that brings me back to the family system which, to be complete, consists of a father, a mother and children all united by love and by God's sacrament. In such a family, there can be no secrets between husband and wife because secrets are unnecessary and unpleasant and lead to suspicion and deceit.

I have never been able to understand a marriage in which the husband and wife are really strangers to each other and remain strangers although they have children.

They know nothing about each other really, except that they are often in each other's company. And sometimes when such a husband dies, the wife does not know where to get the money to bury him. She has never been privy to his affairs, receiving a weekly allowance as though she were an employee and never really knowing whether he could or could not afford her expenditures. I find that such a relationship is more usual than one would expect.

There is another side to the preparation for departure from this particular life and that is that one does wonder whether religion is a myth and a fraud or whether there is a God and what has one done with his life.

Prayer is a rich experience, but the person unaccustomed to prayer must have a hard time because he does not know what to say. The question of guilt must arise and it certainly plagued me for a few nights. It is always at night that the subconscious comes up with the forgotten errors.

I would have hated, during these weeks, to have had to bear the guilt of a broken home, with children driven hither and yon by uncertainty and fear of life itself. I do not think that the little sensual thrills of complex marriages would be at all helpful in the dark ruminations over personal guilt, which no sedation can kill.

Guilt is not driven away by disbelief, not when death is around the corner and the doctor's face speaks more clearly and finally than his words. It is then that one asks himself: "What have I done with this life that God has given me?" And there

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX
IT HAD been determined, the telegram told, that Lt. Silas Giddens had been killed in action. A letter would follow.
Linda stared at the words, wanting to find some of her own. Not finding any, she put her cheek against Margaret's, and held the stricken mother close in her arms.
The twins began to whimper, and Margaret stirred. "They're frightened..." she said piteously. "Oh, Linda..."
"Shhhh!" Dry-eyed, her own grief a hard and hurting lump in her chest, Linda cast about her ways to dull the hurt of the children. Because action would be her own best relief, she set them to little tasks. Jim was to bring a box of Kleenex to his mother. Would Ann take the cake out to the kitchen?
They both could let the puppy out, and watch him.
Next, a vase for the flowers, and water. She herself moved about, tidying the suddenly disheveled room. Alan had laid a sedative to give Margaret should she need one; Linda decided that this was the time, and she administered it, comforting the little dark-eyed woman as she would a child who had suffered a bewildering hurt.
She picked up the telegram, smoothed it, glanced at the clock. "I think I'll send this up to Father, dear."
"You take it," urged Margaret. "Or let Alan tell him—Did you phone Alan?"
"Yes, but he was out—Miss Adamant said he'd be back late this afternoon. I thought of sending the twins. It will give them something to do—and well—they never will take the place of Silas, darling—but it is going to help Father Thornton, and all of us, to know that we still have them."
Margaret sighed, her eyes glazed with grief. "I thought anything would be better than not knowing..." she whispered.
"Yes..." Linda fed the children a slice of cake and a glass of milk, checked on their outdoor wraps and carefully instructed them. "Don't get excited. You don't want to frighten Grandfather. Just take this up to him, and tell him when it came. Let him read it—and then—well, be nice to him. You know you two are going to have to make up for Silas now. You may as well start."
"You mean, now Jim will run the farm?" asked Ann, astutely.
"Yes, with you to help."
She watched them start up the drive, hand in hand as they had not walked in years. Sturdy, healthy—Jasper being what he was, the twins would help him as

DIET AND HEALTH

Be Suitably Dressed For Winter Sports

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M.D.
WINTER sports are fun and healthful.
But you've got to keep bundled up if you want to remain comfortable and avoid chills and numbing frostbite. Dress sensibly and you will get more enjoyment out of skating, skiing and tobogganing.
You do not become cold because of the change in your body's temperature, but because of a change in the temperature of your skin.
Normal Temperature
When your skin becomes cold, involuntary messages are sent to your brain. There, a device, acting like a thermostat, automatically helps your body maintain its own normal temperature.
If you are in good health, this temperature may vary from 97 to 99 degrees Fahrenheit. This built-in thermostat, however, needs the help of warm clothing to do a good job in the winter.
I think you will find that several layers of light wool, such as a wool shirt or dress and one or even two woolen sweaters will keep you much warmer than just one heavy garment.
Light Garments
Another good reason for wearing several light garments is that you can easily remove or add them according to the temperature or amount of exertion called for in your activities.
Over these woolens, you can wear a light windproof coat or other covering. This will greatly help to keep your body heat from escaping.
Your hands, feet and ears are the best targets for frostbite. Ear-muffs are essential for sub-freezing weather. Woolen mitts offer the best protection for your hands. In extremely cold weather, water-repellent mittens worn over woolen mitts will keep your hands not only nice and warm but dry as well.
Light Wool
For your feet, I advise two pair of socks. The first should be light wool. Over them put on a pair of heavier wool socks.
And finally, a pair of comfortable boots. Avoid tight boots. They tend to increase the chance of frostbite. In fact, all winter clothing should be fairly loose.
Tight clothes restrict blood circulation and cold temperatures are apt to slow down circulation anyway.

Answer: Mental retardation in the child usually can be discovered only through examination by the physician. The symptoms will depend upon the type of mental disturbance present and its severity.

Girl Scout Board Members Attend Training Meets

The Circleville and Pickaway County Girl Scout Council took another step toward making scouting available to more girls by making a course available to members of the executive board.

The 16 hour course was taught by Mrs. Homer McCampbell, a volunteer board trainer from Springfield, who prepared for such work by attending a ten-day session at Camp Edith Macy, a National Girl Scout camp, in 1954.

This is the first time board training has been given locally and it was attended by 31 different persons during the eight sessions. Mrs. William Wyatt, training chairman supervised all arrangements and reported that seven board members had attended the sessions.

Those who were able to attend were: Mrs. William Wyatt, Mrs. Vernon Saunders, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Walter Heine, Mrs. Richard Samuel, Mrs. Glen Hines, Mrs. C. E. Linn, Mrs. Melvin Yates, Mrs. Rudolph Chelkowski, Mrs. Alvin Perdon, Miss Doris Schreiner, Mrs. James Reichelderfer, Mrs. Joseph Adkins, and Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr.

Child Study Club Features Speech By Dr. Cushman

The Child Study Club held its annual Husbands' Night dinner in Wardell Party Home.

After the dinner, president Mrs. Gladden Troutman read a poem, "Poor Dad." She introduced Dr. Cushman, who gave a talk on presenting facts to our growing children.

Dr. Cushman said that children begin to see themselves as individual personalities between the ages of six to eight. He stated that it was up to the parents at this time to develop in the children cheerfulness, friendliness, good ethics, and high morals.

Dr. Cushman continued to say that if you train your child properly, when he reaches the adolescent age the parents should have no reason to worry about their child doing wrong, because most children want to be good.

Dr. Cushman concluded his talk by showing a film relating to this subject.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

(Veterans who have a question of interest to ex-servicemen should pass it along to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the courthouse at Circleville.)

Q—Is there a time limit set by the Veterans Administration, or Congress which must be met to file a claim for service-connected disability, incurred in World War I, World War II, or the Korean Conflict?

A—There is no time limit set in which the veteran of any war must file a claim for a service-connected disability. However, if the claim is filed after one year from date of discharge, the award, if allowed, will be effective the date the claim is received in the VA regional office. If the claim is filed within one year from discharge, it may date to discharge date.

Q—Is there any way I can reopen my claim for service-connected disability compensation? If I can, what would be the best method?

A—It is quite easy to reopen a claim for service-connected disability compensation. All that is needed is a statement from your doctor, showing the condition of the service-connected disability at the current time. With this evidence, the County Veterans Service Officer can get the claim reopened and reviewed.

Q—My compensation was reduced last month after a Veterans Administration Examination. I do not feel the disability has improved. Neither does my doctor. What should I do?

A—This is a typical question which has been asked quite often in the last several months. However, it is not a difficult one. The VA, after examining you, has found, in their opinion, that the service-connected disability has improved. Of course, you have to live with the disability, and you know how it bothers you. If in your opinion, and in your doctor's opinion, the disability has not improved, have your doctor write a statement concerning the disability, have him state why he feels it is not improved. With this evidence, your claim can be reopened and reviewed. This is no assurance that the VA will change their opinion, but very often it can do so.

Q—When I left the service, I filed a claim for gunshot wounds I suffered in combat. The VA called me in for examination and I did not go. As a result, my claim was disallowed. Now I would like to open my claim and I don't know how. What should I do?

A—A letter to the VA, explain-

Lt. Gov. Brown Sticking By Personal Data In Literature

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Gov. John Brown, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, last night said he stood by a campaign brochure that stated he studied at three Ohio colleges.

"The only change I might make would be in grammar," Brown said of the brochure statements which were challenged in newspaper stories.

"I wasn't trying to fool anyone," Brown told the Akron Newspaper Guild. "I don't claim to be a brilliant or highly educated man, but I don't think the governor of Ohio must have degrees from every college."

The brochure stated Brown "studied at Ohio University and attended Cleveland College and Akron Law School."

The Cleveland News said a check of registrars' offices at Cleveland College and Ohio University failed to indicate Brown ever attended either institution.

Brown described himself as the son of a coal miner who immigrated from Scotland to Athens ing why you did not report for the first exam, and telling that you will be glad to report for an exam at this time, will do the job. The VA will call you in for another exam, if evidence of the disability is found, compensation may be allowed.

Q—May I receive compensation from the VA, if I have been receiving disability retirement pay?

A—The fact that you have been receiving disability retirement pay will have no bearing on whether or not you can receive compensation from VA. However, if compensation is awarded by the VA, your disability retirement pay will have to be waived. You cannot receive both benefits, if they are equal. It is to your own welfare, to take the VA Compensation rather than the retirement benefits, as free hospital and doctor treatment goes with VA Compensation and not with the retirement pay. Also, if your retirement pay is greater than the VA award, you can waive that portion of the retirement pay that is equal to the VA award, and still draw the balance in retirement pay, thereby receiving both benefits.

must be an answer because the subconscious will not be quiet. How happy is the person who at such a moment turns his face to the Creator and fears not His judgment! That does not mean that he is without faults. It does mean that he is without fear.

No man who has been close to death—consciously close to death—can ever face life as before. That is really the significance of Eisenhower's coronation as it is of anybody's. He faces a new life as though he were reborn. Wife, children, friends, activities—all take on new relationships because their meaning in the whole picture of living is different.

For this is certain: the person who has come back to life is not a self-made man, no matter what he was before. He did not bring himself back. Nor are the doctors entirely responsible for restoring him because he knows, what they know, that, in certain circumstances, there would have been no way back. The stroke would have been final and complete. It comes to him as he lies alone and no longer afraid that God's mercy has been upon him and that he owes more than he can repay. And that starts a chain of thinking that one cannot ignore if one is at all sensitive to the forces in his own life.

Football Game Due At Wedding

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—Monaco officials, bubbling over with plans for the April marriage of their prince to Grace Kelly, say two American football teams will be invited over to play.

The teams were not disclosed, but officials said the game will be held in the Louis II Stadium, which never has seen such a contest.

Palace sources said preliminary estimates of the bill for the wedding come to around $285,000.

Family Doing OK With Bus Travel

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"What we need is a bus," Mrs. Louis Fusz observed as she and her husband and their six children crowded into the family car.

So, one day, her husband drove up in front of their home with a bright red 35-foot bus of 1946 vintage, suggested tearing out all the seats, building bunk beds, installing a kitchen and making draperies for the windows.

Now, a year and several pleasure trips later, all these things have been done—not to mention a battery powered refrigerator and a bottled gas cookstove.

Ohio Continues Gain In Total Private Planes

A total of 2,824 aircraft were registered with the Ohio Aviation Board in 1955, according to an announcement made today by C. E. A. Brown, Director of Aviation for the State of Ohio.

This compares to 2782 registered in 1954. There has been a steady increase in the number of active aircraft in the state since 1952, the first year of state registration.

Cuyahoga was the county with the largest number of planes. A total of 219 are based in the Cleveland area. Franklin County was a close second with 212 active planes.

Three counties, Adams, Noble and Meigs, in the hill country of Southern Ohio, had no active based aircraft during the year. There are no airports listed for any of these counties. Only those planes actually being operated are required by law to be registered with the state department of aviation.

OF THE total number of registered planes, 1,570 were two-place (pilot and one passenger), 1021 were four-place and 186 were multi-engine. In 1954, there were 1660 two-place, only 966 four-place and 172 multi-engine.

These figures reflect a continuation of the decline in the number of two-place planes which has been taking place the last few years and a steady increase in the number of four-place family type and smaller business aircraft.

The number of multi-engine planes, which are used almost exclusively for executive transportation, has also been increasing steadily. A total of 468 planes, both single and multi-engine, were registered in the name of corporation in 1955.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have been married 18 years and have three sons. Three years ago we adopted a little girl, then four years old. Right after we adopted her, our youngest son, then age six, started wetting the bed and having headaches.

Our doctor told us that Bobby was jealous of little Ann, and to love him more, which we did. Now he is nine years old and has failed his second year in school, which puts him back in the same grade with Ann.

I have been very nervous since we took this child, and spent two months in the hospital recently. The whole family is upset and all our trouble is caused over this little girl.

I can't get my mind off Ann; I realize she is in the wrong family. The doctor has said that all of us would be better off if she were placed in a home. I want to be fair to her, and I realize that such a change could ruin her life; but I also know that I cannot give her what she needs. An you suggest what should be done in the circumstances?

P. Y.: This is a sad situation, certainly; but I wish to commend you for having the good character to admit that you made a mistake in adopting Ann. That's what it amounts to, when you say 'she is in the wrong family.'

"Anybody can make a mistake, but only a fool won't learn from experience," a folk saying tells us. And your willingness to face your mistake, and remedy matters insofar as possible, shows that you aren't a fool, that you are open to teaching.

It is unfortunate that the whole family has been upset by your move to make Ann your daughter; and that your health and Bobby's has suffered from the strain of your ambitious attempt to do more than you could. But the real

Strange Rebellion Studied In Brazil

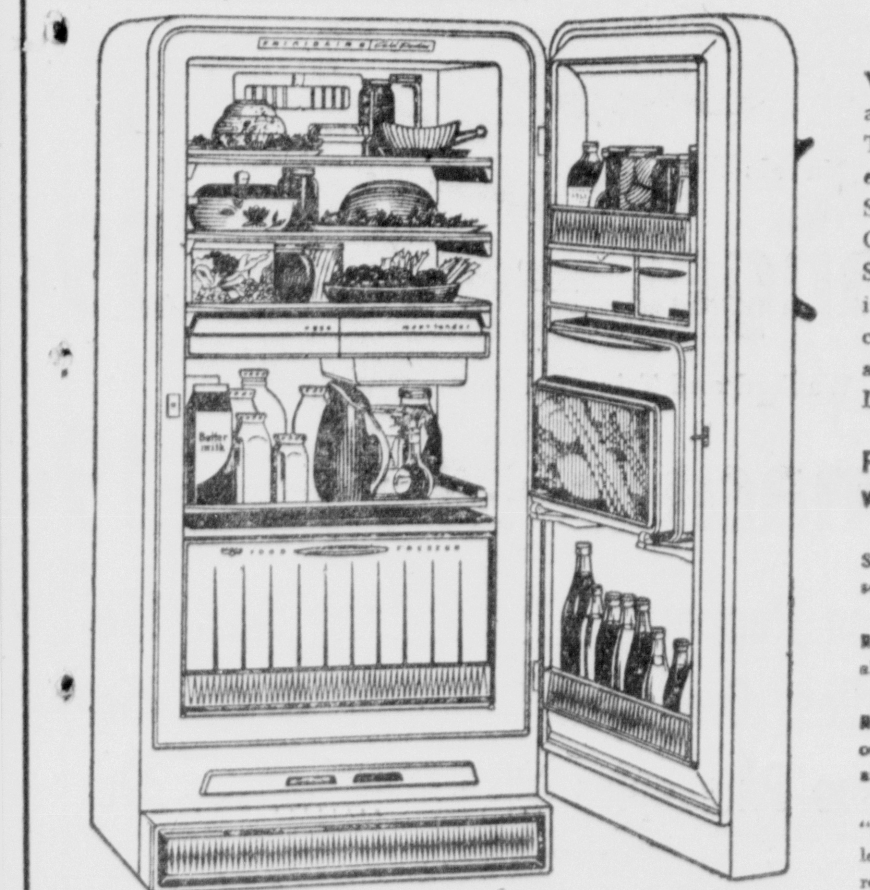

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Fifteen army and air force generals have appealed to leaders of one of South America's strangest rebellions to surrender.

The appeal told the rebels that if they give up they would be allowed to go into exile instead of being tried and imprisoned.

The culprits are four air force officers and 30 men who have seized the City of Santarem, cutting all air and river traffic through the Amazon Valley. Not a single shot has been fired. The reason for the revolt is unknown here.

Stevenson Given Analysis Of Errors Cited By Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson gave his version today of what former President Harry S. Truman called "mistakes" in the Illinoisan's 1952 campaign as Democratic presidential candidate.

Stevenson acknowledged there had been poor coordination between his headquarters and Washington but said he had not been aware of it at the time and regretted it now.

He defended his position, however, on several other campaign phases criticized by Truman in the former President's memoirs.

Stevenson made his reply in the New York Times, which is publishing the memoirs.

Truman said that Stevenson, by appointing Stephen A. Mitchell to replace Frank E. McKinney as Democratic national chairman, and by setting up campaign headquarters in Springfield, Ill., gave the impression he wanted to disassociate himself from the Truman regime.

Concerning the chairmanship appointment, Stevenson said that

Dayton Facing 2 Tough Foes Before NIT

East Kentucky, Cincy Stand In Pathway Of Twice-Beaten Flyers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only two foes, both formidable, remained on the University of Dayton's basketball schedule today before the fourth-ranked Flyers journey to New York for National Invitational Tournament action.

The high-flying Flyers bagged their 21st success of the season last night with an easy 80-48 triumph over outclassed Seattle. The twice-beaten Dayton quintet has contests remaining with Eastern Kentucky and Cincinnati before the post-season tourney.

Dayton, looking ahead to a possible tussle with Louisville in the NIT, socked the touring Seattle team in effortless fashion. Big Bill Uhl netted 26 markers to lead a Dayton offense which rolled up a 13-4 lead before the losers could tally a basket. Uhl, in addition to pacing all scorers, picked off 15 rebounds in the 28 minutes he played.

Dayton used all available players, and along with Uhl, Jim Palmer, Jim Paxson and Al Sicking hit in the double figures.

Only Louisville has tarnished the Flyers' gaudy record this season. The Cards tripped Dayton by two points in an overtime last month and nipped the Flyers again last week by a three point margin.

In other action, Miami defeated Marshall 103-82, in a Mid-American Conference game. Marshall already had clinched the conference championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Bill Kennon paced Miami with 27 points while Cebe Price was high for Marshall with 24.

It was Marshall's fourth defeat in 21 games and its second in 12 conference games. Miami is 9-8 for the season and 7-4 in conference play.

Ohio University handed Morehead (Ky) its ninth defeat in 24 games 113-99. The winning Bobcats set three new school records.

The 113 points established new floor and team records. Both previously were 105. And the combined score of 212 points erased the old mark of 190 for the Athens gym.

Dan Swartz, the nation's third leading scorer, plunked in 33 points for the losers.

Ohio now has a 12-9 record. John Carroll kept alive its hopes for the title tie with Wayne in the President's Conference, as it downed city rival Case Tech 97-82.

Paul Schlimm was high for Carroll with 24 while Joe Girlando hit 29 for Case, losers of its last nine games.

In Ohio Conference action, Denison squeaked by Kenyon 72-69 and Ohio Wesleyan edged Otterbein 91-90.

Bob Brenand paced the Big Red with 22 points and Dan Bumstead led the losers with 21. Denison now stands 11-2 in the conference to Kenyon's 4-7.

Russ Davis sunk 18 of 22 free throws to set a new Ohio Wesleyan record in his team's victory. The lead changed hands 25 times

Eddie Machen Seen As Hot New Prospect

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The heavyweight boxing ranks boasted a bright new prospect today in young Eddie Machen, who handles his fists and his feet with the speed of a middleweight.

The 22-year-old Redding, Calif., Negro made an impressive national television debut last night, completely befuddling Cuban Julio Mederos in earning an unanimous 10-round decision before a near-capacity crowd at the grand opening of San Francisco Garden.

As impressed as anyone with the showing of the youngster, who racked up his 12th victory without a loss, was Truman Gibson, executive secretary of the International Boxing Club. "He looks ready for bigger game," commented Gibson to Sid Flaherty, Machen's manager. "He showed a lot more than I expected from a kid with that little experience."

Gibson and Flaherty expected to confer on a bout between Machen and Nino Valdes, world's third-ranking heavyweight, currently recovering from a nasal operation. Valdes had been scheduled to face Machen but canceled out because of the nose injury.

Machen, amazingly fast for his 193 pounds, kept a sharp left jab in Mederos' face all night, throwing the Cuban off balance. The young Californian's footwork and bobbing and weaving defense made Mederos miss consistently.

3 Blind Boys Enter State Mat Tourney

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three boys from the Ohio State School for the Blind will compete in the Ohio scholastic wrestling championships Friday and Saturday at Lakewood High School.

It will be the first time sightless wrestlers have participated in the state prep meet.

Two of the entries from the Columbus school, Richard Brawner in the 134-pound class, and Charles Warren Jr. in the 139-pound division, won regional titles at Findlay last weekend. The third, 146-pound Buel Messer, was runnerup in his first loss in 21 matches.

196 Standardbreds Bring $127,670

DELAWARE (AP) — A total of $127,670 was paid for 196 trotters and pacers at the two-day Spring Speed Sale of standardbred horses at the fairgrounds here.

Highest price brought yesterday was the $4,000 paid for Pastime and the score was knotted 15 times in the closely played game.

Jerry Wirth was high for the losers with 34 points while Davis paced Wesleyan with 30.

Otterbein now is 6-12 overall and 6-11 in the conference. Wesleyan stands at 5-14 overall and 4-9 in the loop.

Forward Wynn Hawkins netted 38 points to lead Baldwin-Wallace to a thrilling 121-108 victory over Wittenberg. Center Terry Deems was high for the Lutherans with 32.

It was the Yellow Jackets 11th win in 16 starts while Wittenberg stands at 7-1.

SCOL Cage Title Will Be Decided By Friday Night

The South Central Ohio League basketball title will be decided Friday night when Washington C. H. travels to Greenfield.

The Blue Lions from Fayette County are half a game ahead of Wilmington with a 6-1 mark. A win for WCH gives them the title all alone; a loss throws them into a tie with the Hurricanes.

Greenfield just lost another game this week when Bexley set a home court record against them. The Highland Countians have not won a game since last Jan. 3 when they bested Circleville.

4 Ohio Colleges Plan Cage Playoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Defiance Central State, Steubenville and Baldwin-Wallace will compete at B-W Gym next Wednesday and Thursday for the right to represent Mazy, a 7-year-old pacing mare from the consignment of Donald L. Moran of Madison, Wis.

Edward Morgan of Troy, an agent, was the successful bidder.

Jewell Brothers of Franklin, Tenn., paid $3,100 for Poplar Fanny, 12-year-old brood mare, for the second highest price. Poplar Fanny had been consigned by A. B. Higley of Trappe, Md.

Added Power In Cars Told In Speed Test

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Increased power of U. S. built sports and passenger cars is apparent in speed records they set on the beach here yesterday.

Tim Flock of Atlanta, Ga., drove a 1956 Chrysler 300B faster than any American stock car had ever been clocked in a two-way run over the measured mile on the ocean sand—139.91 miles an hour.

The National Assn. for Stock Car Automobile Racing set up a new classification of unlimited piston displacement for the new powerful cars. Flock's mark automatically became a record in that division.

The fastest previous time for an American strictly stock car in these trials was 127.58 mph set last year in a 1955 Chrysler 300.

This became a record in the middle bracket class and immediately was erased Wednesday by Danny Eames of Detroit. He drove a Dodge 500D at an average of 130.37 mph.

The record for smaller passenger cars was raised to 121.335 mph by Murray Hartley of Erie, Pa.,

Gene Stonerock Is Named Bowsher Trophy Winner

The scrappy forward broke an individual tournament scoring record when he zizzled the nets for 42 points while his team was losing to Jackson, 79-70. This performance shattered the former record of 34 points in one contest.

STONEROCK was on hand two nights later to see his own record eclipsed when Eddie Longberry of Jackson zeroed in on the hoops for 43 markers.

However, Stonerock made his points, most of them about 15 feet or more out from the basket while his team was losing. Longberry set the new record, making most of his points close in to the bucket while his team was rambling past a frigid Salter Creek quintet, 90-44.

Besides his one-man tournament show, during the season, Stonerock tallied 41 against Darby, 37 against Atlanta, 32 against Amanda, and, in another game with Atlanta, he connected for 31 points.

Last year, when Williamsport finished in third place in the county league, the stocky forward was the second highest scorer in the loop with 234 points, 69 less than Harold "Buzz" Gerhardt of Atlanta, who won the 1955 Bowsher award.

Including non-league games and tournament tilts, Stonerock tallied 361 points for the Deers last year and was named to the All-County Team.

HOWEVER, Stonerock is not only a scoring threat but is an all-around good basketball player. He is a great floor man, good dribbler, fine rebounder, especially for his size, is fast, and is an excellent passer. Against Jackson in the tournament, he threw many passes which led to quick points for his team.

Because of his marksmanship, he is closely guarded by opponents, all-wine his teammates to "shake loose" many times. Because of this, Stonerock is able to fire many passes to his teammates breaking towards the basket for two points.

Due to a serious tonsillotomy he underwent in mid-season, the Williamsport athlete missed two games—one against Clarksburg and the other against Salter Creek. Although still weak from his operation, he came back to play in the New Holland tilt and scored 17 markers.

Probably just about one of his most spectacular exhibitions was against the mighty, unbeaten Broncos of Ashville when he put on a thrilling one-man show in the first quarter.

Scoring from all sides, Stonerock bombarded the nets for 16 points in the first canto to pace his underdog team to a 19-18 advantage by the end of the initial stanza. He scored two more points in the second period before fouling out of the game midway in that stanza. The Deers went on to lose the game, scoring only two more baskets in the rest of the contest.

THE 170-POUND forward, who hopes to go to Ohio State University next Fall, began playing basketball when he was about six years old. By the time he reached the seventh grade, he was playing for Williamsport.

As an eighth grader, he began to make some headlines and was named the Junior High All-County team captain. That year, Williamsport won the county junior high tournament championship and also swept to the invitational tournament title at Mt. Sterling.

In the latter tourney, Stonerock averaged 27 points per tilt to lead his teammates to the championship. For the season, he meshed the nets for 271 points.

The next year, Stonerock was playing in Class "A" competition for Circleville High School's reserve team.

By mid-season, he joined his brother, Terry, on the varsity first team. At the end of the season, Gene had tallied 203 points, 116 while on the varsity squad.

HOWEVER, his brother, Terry, a junior, beat him out for the team's scoring lead total, but Gene had the better game average.

As a sophomore, Gene not only beat out his brother on game average but was the team's high scorer. In addition, he was named to the All South Central Ohio League team.

Stonerock returned to Williamsport in his junior year and will be graduated from the school this June.

Although there doesn't seem to be a shot that Stonerock cannot

CHS Basketeers In Final Game Of Cage Season

Local basketball fans will get their final hometown look at Circleville's surprising cagers when they play host to Logan Friday night in the final game of the season.

The Varsity Tigers, coached by Red Courtney, will be out for victory No. 12 in 18 contests. A win would give them one of the best records in recent years as far as basketball is concerned.

Friday night will also be farewell for virtually the entire varsity, except for district play. Seniors playing their final games in the new E. Mill St. gym include: Bobby Callihan, Ralph Jones, Mike Karns, Jim McConnell, Walt Sieverts and Bobby Wellington.

As a matter of fact, next year's varsity will nearly be a duplicate of this season's reserves. And this should please local basketball fans because the Kittens have swept by 15 opponents this season without being defeated. Friday night, they will be seeking victory No. 16.

BECAUSE THIS will be the last game for the senior squad, the game is expected to produce fireworks. The Tigers have been both torrid and tepid during the season, upsetting highly touted Wilmington and yet losing to cellar dwelling Greenfield (a defeat they later avenged.)

First game is at 7 p. m.

Heart Fund contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

District Drawings Saturday, Sunday

Drawings for Class A and B district basketball games will be held this weekend.

Class A pickings will be held Saturday morning in the Student Union at Ohio State University.

The Class B drawings will be held Sunday afternoon at Otterbein College in Westerville.

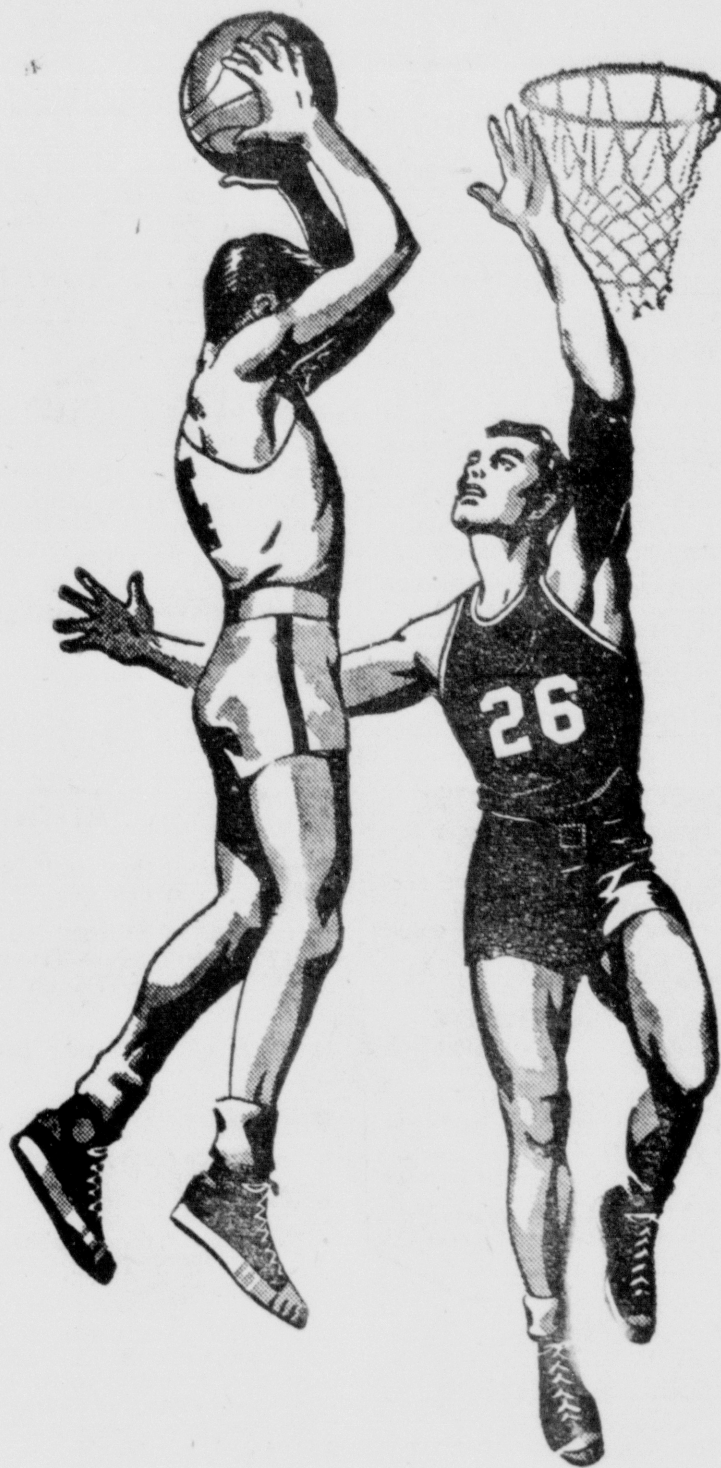

Circleville and Washington C. H. will be in the Class A play. Ashville and Pickaway, plus the winner of the Jackson-Scioto game Friday night, will compete in Class B.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our beloved mother, daughter, and sister, the late Mrs. Helen Rose Cramer, who passed away five years ago today, Feb. 23, 1951.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance, just a memory fond and true, just a token of affection, and a heartache still for you, just a sigh for the olden moments, just a smile of love anew, and a tear in silence falling, and a yearning just for you, sadly missed by her son, daughter, Mrs. Helen Schoonover and sister, Mrs. Mildred Leist.

Unbeaten Ashville Cagers Seek
3rd Consecutive Tourney Title

Ashville's unbeaten, mighty Broncos will seek their third straight tournament championship and 18th victory in a row when they meet Pickaway in the final game of this year's county tournament Friday night in the county fairgrounds coliseum.

The tough Bronco cagers have dominated the county league scene for the past two years.
They won the league title in 1954, shared it with Scioto in 1955 and won it outright this year.

Ashville, top seeded quintet in the tournament, defeated New Holland 77-31 in its opening game, and downed Scioto, 74-54 Monday night to earn the right to meet Pick-away, 58-51 victor over Jackson, in the finals.

A great measure of Ashville's success lies not only in its tough first string, but in its wealth of material sitting on the bench. The team is also well-coached by Russ
Gregg this year as it was the past two years by Bill Barnettson, now at Pickaway.

IN WINNING 15 games during the past season, the Broncos poured through 1,096 points, a 73-point per game clip. Opponents were held to 765 points or 51 per tit.

Included in Ashville's string of wins are triumphs over Pleasantville and Liberty Union, two of Fairfield County's toughest quintets. Liberty Union is the only team to have beaten Berne Union.

The Bronco attack is paced by Jerry Curry, six-foot, three-inch center and Jerry Riegel, a six-foot guard. Curry, because of his height, is very dangerous under the basket while Riegel is very tough with his long shots or drives.

Larry Fullen is Ashville's playmaking guard and at the two forward positions are Dick Hoover and Dick Miller. Others who contribute to Ashville's outstanding hardcourt successes are:

Don Foreman, Bob Bartholomew,
Lon Cromley, Gary Tedrow, Walt
Myers, Dick Cline and John Wheeler. Two others have moved up from the reserve squad — Don Rathburn, Curry's successor for next year and Dick Shillingburg.

There have been 10 two-hit World Series games. The last was by Vic Raschi of the Yankees against the Phillies on Oct. 4, 1950.

Big Ten Chieftain
Checking At OSU

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dick Larkins,
Ohio State University's athletic director, says Kenneth L. Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, arrived at OSU yesterday "to investigate rumors and accusations of unearned aid to athletes at Ohio State."

Larkins would not comment further on Wilson's arrival. Wilson was accompanied by Jack Ryan, a special investigator from the Western Conference office.

Last year, a national sports magazine told of alleged personal loans and gifts to players by Buckeye football coach Woody Hayes.

One Of Fewest Conservation Classes In Ohio Given Locally

Eighth Graders Attend Course As Requirement

City Students Meet Twice Each Week; Fischer Instructor

Circleville eighth graders are unique in one respect. They are able to attend one of the few classes in conservation in the state of Ohio.

All eighth graders here are required to take the course, taught by Frank Fischer. The class, which began in 1952, meets for two periods each week.

Units of study include: wildlife, forests, soil, water, minerals and conservation. At the present time, study is confined to the classroom. Field trips are being considered for the future.

Two main texts are used in the course. They are: "Conservation of American Resources" and "Conservation in America". Conservation films are used extensively plus such supplemental material as: "Nature Magazine", "Ohio Conservation Bulletin", "The Cottontail Rabbit in Ohio" and "Trees for Tomorrow".

AT TIMES, a specialist in the field of conservation is brought in as a guest lecturer. These talks are arranged whenever possible. Additional resource material has been provided through the efforts of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen Association. This group is furnishing valuable books, magazines, pamphlets and bulletins to the class.

Both boys and girls take the course. The instructor, Mr. Fischer, is a former superintendent of Circleville city schools.

"We feel we are way out in front with this class," according to George Hartman, present superintendent of city schools. "It is a good course and we feel the students enjoy it and get a lot out of it."

"In the few schools throughout the state where the course is taught very few teach it at the eighth grade level as we do. We feel the subject of conservation is extremely important in the lives of our younger generation."

THE COUNTY sportsmen's group is wholeheartedly supporting the course, Hartman said. Al Gabriel, a teacher in the school, and Bob Wolf, a city fireman, are president and secretary of the association. They are reportedly planning to supply more reading material for the course this year. "Conservation is vital to all of us," Hartman brought out. "It is essentially the saving of our natural resources."

Beckett Named Hamilton Mayor

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Veteran city councilman Edward Beckett took over today as mayor of Hamilton.

Beckett was elected to the job unanimously last night by the city council as a month and half long deadlock finally was broken. Beckett has served six terms as city councilman and he was mayor for one term several years ago.

The council had been deadlocked on the election of a mayor by the

DiSalle Urging Lausche Take Time In Strike

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination says he feels Gov. Frank J. Lausche needs "all the time possible" to give the Westinghouse strike situation "the thought it deserves."

Striking union officials earlier this month had asked the governor for help in ending the strike. A Westinghouse striker asked DiSalle if he didn't think Lausche's 10-day silence after the meeting wasn't "too long." DiSalle, replying here Wednesday on a (WMAN) radio broadcast, said:

"You fellows have had 129 days to try to settle the problem, without success, and the governor has had only 10 days...I feel Gov. Lausche needs all the time possible to give this problem the thought it deserves."

Two Liquor Raids Staged Last Year

Pickaway County was the scene of only two liquor department raids last year, according to State Liquor Director William C. Bryant. The raids resulted in eight arrests and a similar number of convictions. They were fined a total of $400.

Nine establishments were cited for some kind of liquor department violation during the year.

Pickaway County is included in District 9, which includes 13 central Ohio counties.

Conservatives Win Vote In Commons

LONDON (AP)—A two-day debate on Britain's financial position has ended with a 325-259 vote of confidence in the Eden government's new anti-inflation moves.

The victory for the Conservatives came in the House of Commons Tuesday night after a stiff opposition Labor party attack on Chan-

Vet Circus Clown Dies At Age 74

AKRON (AP)—Pete Mardo, 74, a circus clown 34 years and original of many of the routines clowns use today, died yesterday in a rest home in Millersburg.

Mardo, born Peter Guckeyson in Dubuque, Ia., started his circus career with the Sun Brothers Circus. He performed with Barnum & Bailey, Ringling Brothers and many other top circuses before his retirement.

Mardo spent his boyhood in Akron. Here, before and after his circus career, he performed at many local functions. In late years he operated restaurants in Novelty and Poland, Ohio.
